REINBECK HIGH SCHOOL

ALMA MATER

In the land where tall corn's growing,
In the Central West,
Stands a school of many virtues,
Ranked among the best.
Glorious Reinbeck is her title,
Loved by old and young.
Let her name be duly honored,
Let her praise be sung.

Each year the students of Reinbeck High School plan to publish a yearbook which will be called The Smar. Any student in high school who wishes to may become a member of the staff. This year there were thirty-one members on the staff.

A contest for selecting a name for the yearbook was held. Rozella Blakely received a free annual for submitting the winning name The Smar (Rams spelled backwards).

This yearbook furnishes a record of the students and their activities for the school year 1949-1950. It is the hope of the members of the staff that everyone will enjoy this year's edition of The Smar and that, in future years, this yearbook will recall memories of R. H. S.

Administration

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Standing: Mr. Tripp, Bradley Mertens, Bill Frei, Donn Lorenzen, Wally Larsen, Allan Wilkinson.
Seated: Janice Paulsen, Vera McCreery, Shirley Barfels, Janet DeWolf.

The Student Council was organized in 1946. The members are elected by votes of each high school class. This year the Senior class was entitled to three council members; the Junior, Sophomore, and Freshmen classes, each two members.

One of the purposes of the Student Council is to sponsor social functions for the student body. One of their other rights is to discuss any problems which might be brought up by the students in regard to school life in the hopes of making R. H. S. a better school.

The students elected by their various classes this year were: Seniors-- Vera McCreery, Wally Larsen, Bill Frei; Juniors-- Janice Paulsen, Allan Wilkinson; Sophomores-- Donn Lorenzen, Shirley Barfels; Freshmen-- Janet DeWolf and Bradley Mertens.

The elected representatives organized and elected the following officers:

Bill Frei. . . . . .President
Vera McCreery. . . . . Vice-President
Wally Larsen . . . . . .Secretary-Treasurer

The first problem of the year was the planning of the first Student Council dance which was held September 24. Another Student Council project was Homecoming which was held November 10, 11, 12. Each member of the Student Council was the chairman of a committee for the three-day event. Another dance was sponsored by this group on December 10. A noon program was set up for the students which included dancing, games, and movies. Movie tickets were sold to the students who wished to attend them. These movies, which were held on Tuesday and Friday, were of both the comedy and educational type. The Student Council set up a "Youth Center" which was held on occasional Saturday nights and after some basketball games. Mr. Tripp was the sponsor of the Student Council.

SCHOOL BOARD

Standing: Carl Bern, Ralph Schildroth, Lyle Robinson.
Seated: Elliott Koht, Roger DeWolf, Warren Fogt.

The Board of Education is elected by the people of the community. As the representatives of the Reinbeck community, they help to formulate the policies of the school in the best interests of all concerned.

On March 13 the regular school election was held at which time Carl Bern and Warren Fogt were re-elected. At their reorganization meeting on March 20, Roger DeWolf was re-elected President. Elliott Koht is Secretary of the board.

CLASS SONG

(Tune of "Someday")

We know that next year we'll want to come back to you,
When we are out in this big, wide world,
We can never quite forget
The teachers' favorite pet,
Though we are leaving now,
We can't forget you somehow
Until next year we'll want to come back to you,
When we have left dear old Reinbeck High.
And though we are leaving now,
We'll want to come back next fall,
Now it's time to say good-by.

We know that Someday our tears will be dried away,
When we have left dear old Reinbeck High,
You expect us to be true
And keep on loving you,
Though we were feeling blue,
We know we can't forget you
Until next year we'll want to come back to you,
When we have left dear old Reinbeck High.
And though we are leaving now,
We'll want to come back next fall,
Now it's time to say good-by.

CLASS HISTORY

It was on a warm sunny day in the year 1938 that eight of our present classmates entered the first grade. With their shiny faces and hair combed just so Donna Mae Vogt, Wally Larsen, Kenneth Stephan, LaVonne Sell, Marian Mulder, Barbara Meewes, Marlene Hamann, and Bill Frei started on their educational journey through the grades. Later that year Marlys Wood joined our group. Miss Alice McFadden decided to make Reinbeck her home, and she is now Mrs. Ralph Creswell.

The time flew and it wasn't long until we were in the second grade. One winter day when we were playing in the gym, Bill Frei cried out that he had broken his arm. What really had happened was that he had hit his crazy bone very hard in a fall. Soon all was well once again. Miss Anna Hepperle was the teacher who had to put up with us and our nonsense.

By now school was a snap for us when, much to our astonishment, we found ourselves in the third grade. They say that there is a surprise in every package, but what a grabbag we turned out to be for Miss Grace Robinson. Arithmetic and geography were added to our studies, but we managed to grasp these well enough to be promoted to the fourth grade.

Our first report cards issued that year by Miss Tenny didn't prove to be so hot, so the next six weeks was spent in studying. It wasn't long until even our deportment grades improved after we found out that Miss Tenny wouldn't stand for any foolishness.

We were now enjoying music under a special teacher,who was Miss BethCollister. Physical education was introduced this year and we all enjoyed it very much.

By this time we had arrived at the fifth grade which was taught by Miss Havelchech, with Miss Bowen as our music teacher. We gained two new students this year-- Phyllis Nehring from Buckeye and Donn Lewis from Eldora. Donn says that he came from the Eldora Public School, but sometimes we wonder.

After this struggle we were now ready to be introduced into Junior High. We found some new studies here, but the main thing was the "Fourth Squad," which became well known to most of the boys, and some of the girls even got on speaking terms with it.

Among our teachers here were Mrs. Jenkins, principal of Junior High, Miss Swenson, Miss Gardiner, and Miss Moklebust.

While we were in Junior High, we learned the American Creed and the poem "Trees."

Lyle and Clarence Smith joined us from Morrison the year we were in the sixth grade.

We had been told the seventh grade would be the hardest, but we didn't believe this, until all of a sudden things started popping.

This year our class membership was enlarged by the following people: Marlene Willer, Willie Lynch, Dick Boll, Betty Boll, Bob Hite, Gertrude Aswegan and Luella Blakely.

Our last year in Junior High was the year we enjoyed the most because it seemed we ruled the roost.

Betty Wheeler, Darlene Harms, Arlene Schildroth, Shirley Jensen, Lois Gibson and John Jipp added more members to our class roll.

Because the war was over the teaching force was enlarged by the following men: Mr. Harold Marston, speech director; Mr. Woodrow Nelson, civics' teacher; and Mr. Richard Meiers, music teacher. Mr. Downey taught Manual Arts to the boys and Miss Willis taught Homemaking to the girls.

Aside from a successful year in our three R's, we had some very interesting side lights. The Junior High basketball team won a trophy for the school. A large number of the players were from our class.

Junior High also produced an operetta, "The Galloping Ghost." Under the leadership of Mrs. Jenkins we formed The Old Glory Club. Here we learned the proper way to conduct a business meeting. Miss Gardiner acted as our sponsor and helped us have a very nice party--the social event of the year.

After a short vacation of three months and much anticipation we entered high school. Here we took our places among the gigantic seniors and tried to look small and inconspicuous. But even with all the effort many of us still got set on the water fountain, one of the many old customs.

Our class staged a Halloween party in honor of our sponsors.

This year we were joined by Siemon Babinet, Giles Card, Vera McCreery, Wilbur Mumm, and Joe Murphy. Many of these people came from rural schools.

Our class officers for this year were: Bob Hite, President; Bill Frei, Vice President; John Jipp, Secretary; Wally Larsen, Treasurer; Luella Blakely, Student Council. Miss Cooper and Mr. Risdal were our sponsors.

Many of the freshmen participated in the operetta "Sunbonnet Sue." Some of the money from this musical production went toward the buying of the baby grand piano. Miss Eva Johnson was the director of this well-produced number.

This year we had a dental check-up and many of us found that we had some bad cavities to be filled.

The Christmas spirit got into all of us and the whole high school drew names. The final event of this season was the huge party staged in the cafeteria around a gigantic tree.

Spring came along with the usual affairs, track meets and music contests. Our class was just getting into the swing of these things when school was over.

By the time we entered school for our tenth time, we were a little better acquainted with the idea of what was happening. Our officers for this year were President, Luella Blakely; Vice President, Bob Hite; Secretary, Bob Crowley; Treasurer, Wally Larsen; Student Council, John Jipp; and our sponsors were Miss Willis, who is now Mrs. Tom Emmett, and Mr. Hafke.

Again Miss Johnson was the successful producer of an operetta; only this time the theme was a Dutch setting and was called "Tulip Time."

This year the student council sponsored the annual Christmas party which was held in the cafeteria. Everyone enjoyed the festive dance around the huge tree and the mistletoe in the corner. Just ask some of the members of our class if they can remember this party--especially in the last annual we produced are some revealing pictures of this event.

On April 9, our class lost one of its members when Phyllis Nehring was killed in an auto accident. Our class attended the funeral as a group.

Quite a few of us sang in Mixed Chorus and Girl's Glee Club, and the boys also went to this contest at Vinton. All three groups came back home with a II rating.

For the first time a band-mothers' club was formed. After much hard work, they managed to raise enough money to buy new suits for the instrumental division of it. These were black, navy style, with orange trim.

The marching band attended Teachers' College Relays and the Drake Relays before school was out. We also went to the Northeast Iowa Band Jubilee which was held at Waterloo and the Eastern Iowa Festival at Cedar Rapids.

This year Jerry Ehrig, Charles Brandhorst, and Ralph Schlicht joined us.

Once again time had flown quickly and we were ready to enter our Junior year after three short months of vacation.

Our Junior Class officers were Bob Hite, President; Marlene Hamann, Vice-President; Lois Gibson, Secretary; Vera McCreery, Treasurer; Wally Larsen, Student Council; and our sponsors were: Miss Staveley, Mr. Grace, Mr. Hopkins, and Mr. Burg.

We were all quite excited and thrilled at the idea of ordering our class rings. After many months of patient waiting, our rings arrived in the spring. It seems many of them met the usual treatment by appearing soon on the fingers of other schoolmates.

The F. F. A. boys entertained the whole high school at a semi-formal fall dance which was very well attended and quite different from most of our parties.

Later this same year the F. H. A. girls returned the favor by sponsoring a "jean-party" at which everyone wore jeans or suffered the consequences.

The class play we produced under the direction of Mr. Grace was "Hobgoblin House" and centered around a kidnapping. Everyone in our class helped whether it was on the scenery building proposition or doing the actual acting. This project helped boost our treasury for the big main event of the year with the banquet and prom.

The KXEL Broadcasting station from Waterloo made a tape recording of some of our outstanding people, our music groups like the girls' sextette and the trumpet trio. Arlene Schildroth's commercial advertising the aspects of Reinbeck won the girls' prize. Charlene, Bobby, Dave

We were sectional tournament hosts to all the surrounding schools. For four nights we made good money on the refreshments.

This was the year that we won the Northeast Iowa Cedar League Football championship by having an undefeated team. The Legion sponsored a banquet in honor of the fellows and their coaches.

The basketball team was just as good. We remained undefeated until Dike beat us at the County tournament in Grundy Center when we were beat in the first game by one point. The fellows went on with their march of victories on through to the sub-state. The very last game of this tournament was when we suffered our second defeat by losing to Waverly. If we could have overcome the 16 point lead Waverly had, we would have been state tournament material.

Reinbeck was host to a speech contest this year, the first one we had participated in for years. Some of our class members took part in it.

The small groups Preliminary Music Contest was held in our community and at our churches and school. About 800 people were here. Reinbeck's ratings were unusually high as we received seven firsts.

The Girls' Glee Club and the Mixed Chorus went to the contest at LaPorte City where the girls received a II and the Chorus a III rating.

The Annual Junior-Senior Banquet was held on May 7 at the Masonic Hall. Our theme was "Moonlight and Roses". After many careful weeks of preparation with making crepe paper roses and dying cheese cloth blue, the big event finally happened. One hundred eight faculty members, seniors, and juniors attended the 6:30 dinner.

May 18 was the evening we held the big prom in the gymnasium. Vic Miller and his orchestra played for this formal dance.

The Baccalaureate Services were held on a Sunday evening at the school house with both the Juniors and Seniors participating. The girls' formals added a note of color to the huge throng of people.

The band under the direction of Mr. Bowman attended the Waterloo Band Jubilee and the Cedar Rapids Band Festival. This was the year Reinbeck's candidate, Elizabeth Snyder, was crowned queen. It had rained all day, and that evening, too. But every one was still so excited that when the band got back to town about 12:30 that night, they marched in the rain in a special celebration in honor of Miss Northeast Iowa.

By this time school was adjourned for another year.

The last September that we were to enter high school rolled around too soon. Thirty three of us entered the senior class together.

Our class officers for this year were: President, Bob Hite; Vice President, John Jipp; Secretary-Treasurer, Joe Murphy; Student Council, Bill Frei, Vera McCreery, and Wally Larsen; and our sponsors were Miss Cooper and Mr. Tripp.

Most of our boys played on the football team which again won the North Iowa Cedar League Conference at the annual Armistice Day game which was in Reinbeck this year.

One of our big projects was an all school carnival at which every grade and organization sponsored some event. We had all kinds of concessions from the Minstrel Show and the Hula Dance to the Duck Ring and Bingo. Our net profit of $1371.78 went into the Unified Budget Fund which is the treasury of all the classes and organizations together.

A new organization was started this year. It is a 60 member all girls' pep club made up of all the high school girls. The school bought orange and black jumpers and blouses for them with matching mittens, hats and anklets. Mrs.Grant and Miss Williams were the girls' sponsors, even though they were grade school teachers. This organization has gained wide publicity through its yells and snappy uniforms.

At the time this was written the basketball season was not over, the senior class play produced or the annual banquet held.

CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1950, having finished our last days of high school and realizing that our departure is drawing near, wish to leave behind something that we will be remembered by in years to come.

To the Juniors we will our uncomfortable but beloved seats.
To the Sophomores we will our athletic, musical, and dramatic ability. May you uphold the honor of R. H. S.?
To the Freshmen we will our bravery to speak our mind.
To Supt. Manning we will our speeches. We hope they are interesting.
To Mr. Tripp we will our promptness to be in classes on time.
To Miss Strachan we will our ability "to use the top instead of the bottom of our heads."
To Miss Staveley we will our excellent speed in typing and shorthand. "Practice makes perfect."
To Miss Cooper and Mr. Grace we will our ability to pronounce words correctly.
To Mrs. Emmett we will our ability to cook better meals for brighter futures.
To Mr. Grant we will our ability to draw a straight line.
To Mr. Maas we will the football conference trophy. Just keep the dust off it.
To Mrs. Brauch we leave our musical voices for all future operettas.
To Mr. Bowman we will all bad notes that could uncurl anybody's hair.
To Mr. Frink we will the ability to turn the corners on two wheels.

Gertrude Aswegen--Wills her height to Shirley Murphy. Don't grow too tall, Shirley.
Siemon Babinet--Wills his job as manager of the football team to Junior Hildebrand. Don't forget to lock the medicine kit, Junior.
Luella Blakely--Wills her ability in speech class to Mary Ann Tessau. Watch your tongue, Mary.
Betty Boll--Wills her June plans to Barbara Schelling. Will marriage be your career, Barb?
Dick Boll--Wills his ability to sleep in classes and the study hall to Bob Ruhs. Don't get caught, Bob.
Chuck Brandhorst--Leaves his ability to go with underclassmen to Donnie Lorenzen.
Giles Card--Wills his Toni permanent to Larry Trepp. No more butches, Larry.
Jerry Ehrig--Wills his muscles to Bradley Mertens. Eat your wheaties every morning, Bradley, and you can keep them preserved.
Bill Frei--Wills his athletic ability to Allan Wilkinson. Keep up the record Allgn.
Lois Gibson--Leaves her ability to work for Mr. Tripp to Marian Bicket. Be sure everything is right, Marian.
Marlene Hamann--Wills her cheerleading ability to Frances Billerbeck. Don't jump too high, Frances.
Darlene Harms--Wills her clock watching ability in classes to Bill Heithoff. See that you get to classes on time, Bill.

CLASS PROPHECY

Wilbur Mumm and Ralph Schlicht take off in their new experimental rocketship, flying for the service of New York Institute of Aeronautics. After flying for several minutes they stop at Lynch's Mid-Continent Flying Field. They climb out of the ship and enter the office for further instructions. Much to their surprise they see a very familiar face sitting behind the stenographer's typewriter. Vera McCreery, very much excited and with that big smile on her face, welcomes them enthusiastically. As they are discussing old school days, the instructor of the flying field enters. The boys again are surprised to see that the instructor is none other than classmate, Willie Lynch.

Vera suggests that all of them go out together that evening for dinner and discuss old happenings. Everyone is in favor of the idea and the date is set for seven o'clock.

On the way Vera tells them that the nightclub is located in the fabulous district of Cleveland, Ohio, on Parkside Boulevard. As they drive up to the entrance, they see the glittering sign "Somongn's Chinese Palace." The quartet enter the nightclub. The proprietor greets them with a startled look and then exclaims, "Well, I don't believe my eyes." Yes, it was Don (Zombie) Lewis. Don gives them the very best table and joins the happy four. The waiter takes the order which consists of a very expensive dinner. As they eat their dinner, the music strikes up and the band leader steps up to introduce a number. The four people recognize him as Giles Card with his sax,who has recently taken over Tommy Dorsey's band.

The evening is spent in the very best of entertainment and the classmates again proceed on their way.

The taxi is called by Ralphie and as the taxi drives up, they see the sign on the taxi "Smith Bros, Inc." The driver steps out and gives with a big old-fashioned grin as he recognizes Vera, Ralph, Willie, and Wilbur. Clarence tells them that he and Lyle claim part ownership in the Cleveland Taxi Corporation. Clarence and the rest hear a sigggggggggggggggggggggggggggg with the noise of a taxi horn. Clarence remarks that that was Lyle. He says that he gets in a hurry once in a while--even yet.

After spending the evening in Cleveland, Wilbur and Ralph get instructions to fly on further west. They stop at St. Louis for refueling and as they are looking the city over they see a sign "Stuffy Stephans' Modeling Girls." The boys wander over to the grounds and see old friend Kenny Stephans giving girls orders about how to pose for a good picture. As they notice the girls, one in particular takes their glances. She is modeling "Stuffy's latest invention---Synthetic Bathing Suit. It's little blondy--LaVonne Sell gives off with a big smile, the camera clicks and she runs to greet her friends. LaVonne tells them that another one of their classmates is secretary at Sure-Insurance Building at 519 Central Lane. Ralph and Wilbur leave after an hour's visit and go to the given address where they find Miss Donna Vogt speaking over the telephone. She immediately lays down the receiver and greets her former classmates.

The boys then go to the Murphy Hotel to rest up a bit,when Joe Murphy comes out to greet the familiar friends. Joe takes them to the office and shows them the latest television set which he has purchased. They turn the set on and see a crowd of yelling people shouting Yea! Brandhorst. As he completes the home run for the last game of the world series playing for the St. Louis Cardinals,we see it is Chuck Brandhorst of Reinbeck, Iowa. The manager, "Waldo," comes out patting each player on the back. Wally Larsen, former Reinbeck lad, is manager of the St. Louis Cardinals teams who have just won the World Series.

After the plane has been refueled, they travel until they land (a forced landing, by the way) at Chicago to visit Ralph's aunt and uncle. As they are visiting, they learn that a Reinbeck graduate is one of the grade teachers in Chicago. They stay overnight at the home of Ralph's relatives and the next morning are found at the grade building asking Marlys Wood how she likes teaching school. Marlys tells the boys she has fifteen minutes off and suggests they see a friend who is working at the drug store. Yes, Dick Boll is the pharmacist at Boll's Drug Counter. Ralph says that after nose diving with Wilbur, he probably will need a prescription.

The schoolmates leave again after a pleasant trip and are headed west toward the old home town of Reinbeck, Iowa, which is now a suburb of Morrison. The first person they run into is Betty Wheeler who is now Mrs. Kenneth Bicket. After a short session with Betty they have rocket trouble. They go to the garage in Reinbeck and find the mechanics in the "Modernize Garage" are Siemon Babinet and Jerry Ehrig. They are going out to the field when the mechanics tell Ralph and Wilbur that the school secretary is Barbara Meewes. They stop in and give a quick "hello" to Barbara.

While the boys are fixing the rocket, Ralph and Wilbur take Jerry's 1960 Chrysler Convertible with eighteen cylinders and travel over the new eight lane highway to Lincoln. Outside one of the main buildings we see a sign "You don't get Jipped here." They walk in and see that this is a very high class nightclub which is owned and operated by that old Lincoln resident, John Jipp. John explains that $4,000 changes hands each night.

Wilbur tells Ralph that he would like to stop over at Voorhies and take a look at the old town. They land at a very small field and see a sign. Voorhies--Population 1800. Wilbur says, "It's really grown." The first acquaintance they meet is Shirley Jensen working at the elevator. They have also erected a theater there and Gertrude Aswegen is the co-owner of the theater. The girls tell the boys that Marian Mulder is a receptionist for Pitze's Beauty Salon at Waterloo, Iowa.

The flyers grab another new propeller and are off to Waterloo. They chat with Marian for a while and as they are talking a cherry blonde comes in. She has graduated from Reinbeck High and is now a private secretary for the Waterloo Insurance Company. The boys give a whoop and holler,and shake hands with Darlene Harms.

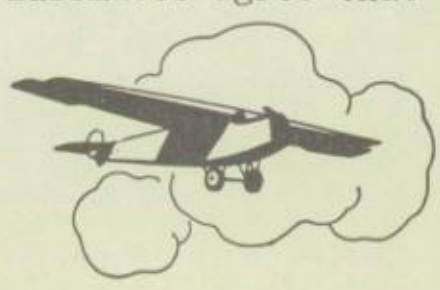
By now Ralph and Wilbur have seen practically all of their former friends and classmates, that they decide to see the rest of them. Cedar Falls is their next stop. Here they find Arlene Schildroth working as a botanist and English teacher. Arlene claims she has really discovered a number of things.

Here, Marlene Willer is employed by the Bell Telephone Trans-Atlantic Exchange, as a telephone operator. Do you keep getting the right number, Marlene?

The flyers leave Iowa and fly non-stop to California where they land at Marshall Field and the first thing they see is a large parade with a bulletin saying VOTE FOR BILL FREI FOR U. S. SENATOR. Following the large bulletins and posters is Reinbeck High graduate Bill Frei,riding in a Cadillac Convertible,and shouting "hello" to Ralph and Wilbur.

Further down the street they see another Bill Frei supporter and as they talk to Luella Blakely they learn she is studying interior decorating. Among the growing crowd, they find Bob Hite trying to get a quick glimpse before he takes the plane back to New York City where he is studying television. The boys see Lois Gibson taking pictures and notes for the paper for which she is reporter. Our friends say a short "hello" and "good-by" and are on their way to the Field House and find that they are to take passengers back with them to the east coast. Among them is Bob Hite who is in a big hurry to make a television program back in New York. The boys are assigned their stewardess for the flight and it is none other than Marlene Hamann.

Under the hands of the former Reinbeck High students the plane lands safely at La Guardia field in New York City where the three classmates agree that the class of 1950 was truly a group of successful students.



CLASS POEM

We, the senior class of nineteen fifty,
Leave you a poem that's really nifty.

Vera McCreery will be famous some day,
But she won't get there in her model "A."

Kenny Stephan, the industrious lad,
Never is seen doing anything bad.

Betty Wheeler's the girl with a ring,
She really thinks he's quite the thing.

Luella Blakely is a twirler by trade,
The boys won't let her be an old maid.

Spreading sunshine all over the place,
Is Donna Vogt with a smile on her face.

Bill Frei, the representative's son,
Comes to school just to have fun.

Gertrude Aswegen, the girl known as Gertie,
Gets along with the girls and with the boys she is flirty.

Giles Card is going to lead a band,
Someday he'll be known throughout the land.

Without freckles, our class would be lost;
Marlene Willer, can we get them at cost?

Wally Larsen is the particular type;
That there aren't enough pretty girls is his gripe.

Clarence Smith is a bachelor gay,
We wonder how long he'll stay that way.

Jerry Ehrig likes to play football,
For him many of the girls fall.

Darlene Harms was our homecoming queen,
The boys all think she's pretty keen.

Quiet and shy is Wilbur Mumm,
When around him, you'll surely have fun.

Marlene Hamann, as a cheerleader is snappy;
With just the right boy she'll always be happy.

Marlys Wood, who is quiet and shy,
Hopes someday she'll find the right guy.

Lyle S.

Lyle Smith has a bashful smile,
For the right girl he would walk a mile.

Barbara Meewes, small and sweet,
When it comes to flirting, she can't be beat.

Dick Boll is a working lad,
But you'll always find him happy and glad.

Arlene Schildroth, the brains of the class,
Need not worry about grades, she's going to pass.

Ralph

John Jipp is our boy of play,
He has never been known to have nothing to say.

Ralph Schlicht is steady and sure,
For all of your troubles he'll find a cure.

Arlene S.

Chuck Brandhorst is a good baseball man.
He can often be seen going out with "Jan."

Dick

Don Lewis is carefree and gay,
He always has something smart to say.

Chuck

Don

Joe Murphy is bashful in school,
But in games and sports, he always keeps cool.

Betty Boll, who studies as hard as she can,
She usually is seen with her steady, "Stan."

Bob

In our class is a quiet blond belle
Who is none other than LaVonne Sell.

Bob Hite who works on a farm,
Says studying doesn't do any harm.

Willie

Betty B

Siemon Babinet is another bashful senior;
He never commits a misdemeanor.

Willie Lynch is our boy of play,
He really gets around, so they say.

Lois Gibson, laughing and gay,
Cheers those who come along her way.

Marian Mulder is quiet and kind,
Others like her are hard to find.

Shirley Jensen, with a pert little smile,
Thinks country life is really worth while.

Now that our school days are almost through,
We'd like to say farewell to you.

The sophomore class consisted of forty-four members with Miss Strachan and Mr. Grant as our sponsors. Our class officers were: President,Ross Frahm; Vice-President, Charlotte Frier; Secretary, Frances Billerbeck; Treasurer, Virtus Ramundt; Student Council, Donn Lorenzen and Shirley Barfels.

The members of our class participated in many of the extra-curricular activities of the school. Many of the boys were members of the football and basketball teams; several of the girls were first team players in girls' basketball. Nearly all the sophomore girls were members of the Pep Club and F. H. A. Most of the boys took part in F.F.A. and its activities. Several class members were reporters for The Ram-Blurr and served as staff members for The Smar.

Our Homecoming candidate was Shirley Barfels, who was an attendant to the Queen.

The Reinbeck Rams started the 1949 season with pre-school workouts. Four lettermen were back from the undefeated team of 1948: Chuck Brandhorst, Jerry Ehrig, Bill Frei, and Joe Murphy.

There were four objectives in the 1949 season to be reached. They were as follows:

1. Go undefeated.
2. Beat Traer.
3. Beat our old rival Grundy Center.
4. Win the North Iowa Cedar League Conference.

The first objective was lost when Tama defeated the Rams in their first game. The second objective was won. The last two objectives relied on the winning of the Grundy game. These were also won when the Rams defeated the Spartans 13-7.

The first eleven men for the 1949 season were as follows: Chuck Brandhorst, Jerry Ehrig, Bill Frei, Donn Lorenzen, Willie Lynch, Joe Murphy, Bill Ragsdale, Richard Schick, Ralph Schlicht, Lyle Smith, and Larry Trepp.

An all-territory grid team was again picked by the Marshalltown Times Republican. Reinbeck players selected for the first team were Jerry Ehrig, guard and Donn Lorenzen as a utility back;second team,Larry Trepp,end, Joe Murphy, tackle, and Bill Ragsdale, utility lineman;third team, Bill Frei, back. Those receiving honorable mention were Wally Larsen, Richard Schick, Chuck Brandhorst, and Lyle Smith.

The Rams finished the season with five wins, two defeats, and one tied game.

The 1949-50 basketball season started off with a bang at Teachers High with the North Iowa Cedar League Jamboree. The Rams were pitted against Traer and won 20-13. There were four returning lettermen from last year's team-----Bill Frei, Joe Murphy, Larry Trepp,and Jim Lewis. The other three that saw action in about all games were Chuck Brandhorst, Jerry Ehrig, and Donn Lorenzen. Joe Murphy was elected captain by the members of the team.

The season's record was 14 games won and 7 lost. The Rams won the Grundy County Championship by defeating Beaman a mere two points. They advanced to the district tournament by defeating Grundy in the sectional.Vinton stopped the Rams in the first game of the district tournament which was held at Waterloo.The Rams tied for second place with Grundy in the North Iowa Cedar League Conference.

For the first time in four years a girls' basketball team was organized in Reinbeck. Under the coaching of Superintendent Manning, a fair team was produced. The first six girls were Frances Billerbeck, Francine Billerbeck, Luella Blakely, Rozella Blakely, Shirley Barfels, aand Vera McCreery. Mrs. Manning was selected as the chaperone. Student managers were Carol Cramer and Jean Shoup. Vera McCreery was elected captain of the team.

Getting a late start in the season and lacking experience, the girls were victims of several high scoring teams. The season's record follows:

Activities

The Lincoln young people are well represented in the Reinbeck High school Swingsters Band. The local members are Giles Card, tenor saxaphone; John Jipp, drums and Rachael Johnson, piano. Reinbeck members are Bob Hite and Dave Hickman trumpets and Bardell Bowman, alto saxaphone. The Swingsters played for a teen age dance Saturday evening in the Masonic Hall sponsored by the Junior Auxiliary.

Why have two seniors and one sophomore boy been banished outside or inside Mr. Manning's office every noon? Is that why you linger over your lunches every noon!

This is the first year Reinbeck High School has had an all girls' organized Pep Club. The club consisted of fifty-four members.

Lois Gibson was elected President, Ramona Halupnick as Vice-President, Marlene Hamann as Secretary, and the sponsors were Mrs. Grant and Miss Williams.

Lois Gibson, Darlene Harms, Marlene Hamann

The girls' identical uniforms, which consisted of black hats, orange blouses, black jumpers, orange anklets and orange and black mittens, were worn to all the games.

After the home basketball game with Teachers College H.S. the Pep Club sponsored a dance for the students of the two schools.

For the football season the six cheerleaders were Barbara Meewes, Luella Blakely, Lois Gibson, Marlene Hamann, Marlene Willer, and Darlene Harms. The cheerleaders for the basketball season were Lois Gibson, Marlene Hamann, and Darlene Harms.

Each week the people of the Reinbeck community were informed of the activities in the school by reading The Ram-Blurr. The news was printed each week in the Reinbeck Courier.

The gossip column, which was read first by most of the students, was called "The Mop."

All members of the staff served as news reporters and the different news assignments were rotated among them.Different junior high students collected the grade news each week.

Miss Staveley was the faculty adviser for the staff.

The marching band performed at four home football games and three out-of-town games. The band also made some special formations at the North Iowa Cedar League Football Jamboree which was held at Eldora. The band led the Labor Day parade along with several other pep rally parades.

This year hat lights were purchased for the entire band. Many of the formations were made in the dark,and the twirlers performed with their lighted batons.

The band officers for this year were: President, Luella Blakely;Vice-President, Marlene Hamann; Secretary, Giles Card.

The Pep Band played at the home basketball games to add spirit and color. During the special ceremony before the beginning of the first team game, they furnished the music for the entry of the flag and played "The Star Spangled Banner," "The Alma Mater," and the "Loyalty Song." When the twirlers performed at these games between the halves, the band also played for them. The Pep Band members were Betty Dinnebier, Ross Frahm, Barbara Schelling, Myrna Morrow, Giles Card, Bob Hite, David Hickman, Gary Karkosh, and Donna Beier.

Seated: David Hickman, Bob Hite, Rachael Johnson, Mr. Bowman, Giles Card.
Standing: Barbara Meewes, Janice Paulsen.
Absent: Luella Blakely, John Jipp.

Another division was added to the band department this year-the swing band. "The Swingsters" were a group of six instrumentalists who wore uniforms of royal blue with silver trim. The vocalists, Luella Blakely, Janice Paulsen, and Barbara Meewes, made up the swing trio. The girls wore identical white formals. "The Swingsters" made their first public appearance at the Homecoming Dance. This group played for other high school dances during the year.

Barbara Meewes, Marlene Hamann, Rozella Blakely, Luella Blakely.

The twirlers who performed with the band this year were Barbara Meewes, Marlene Hamann, Rozella Blakely, and Luella Blakely. At the beginning of the year they received new suits of orange satin with black trimming. The matching shakos were ostrich plumes and gold eagle emblems.

Last fall the four girls entered the State Baton Twirling Contest at Osage with a twirling ensemble which won a first rating. Luella, Rozella, and Barbara entered with solos and all received first ratings. Since they won first ratings at this contest, they entered the Championship Contest held at Perry, Iowa, Saturday, May 6.

The majorettes performed with the marching band during the football season. Between halves of basketball games, the girls worked in pairs and also performed solos for extra entertainment at the games.

The following officers were elected at the beginning of the year:President, Bill Frei; Vice-President, Joe Murphy; Secretary, Ralph Schlicht; Treasurer;Donn Lorenzen; and Reporter, Jerry Ehrig. Mr. Frink is the faculty adviser. The Reinbeck F. F. A. Chapter has a membership of thirty-three members. In the Labor Day Parade they entered a float with a drop rotation theme. This float won third prize in its division. A tractor rodeo was held on the school grounds Labor Day.

The National F. F. A. Convention was held in Kansas City in October. Joe Murphy, Chuck Brandhorst, Bill Frei, and Richard Schick represented our group at the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Frink chaperoned them for the three-day trip.

For the first time this year the boys sponsored a poultry and grain show open to the public. About seventy-three entries were entered in the following divisions: soybeans, oats, corn,eggs, and chickens. Pioneer Hi-Bred awarded medals to the corn winners while ribbons were given in the other divisions.

At the all high-school carnival the F. F. A. sponsored a duck throwing concession.

The district F. F. A. Contest was held at Dunkerton last spring.The Reinbeck Chapter had a number of entries there, along with the secretary and treasurer books.

Joe Murphy and Dale Larsen attended the State F.F.A.Convention as delegates.

The Reinbeck Chapter of the F. H. A. re-organized in September, 1949. Fifty-one members were enrolled for the year. The chapter had a very interesting program of work. Here are a few of the highlights:

September - Labor Day float; won first prize.
October - Worked in food booth at the carnival.
Invited mothers to style show and tea.
December - F. H. A. week. Gave an assembly program for the high school.
February - Heart sister's week--lots of fun.
May - Picnic.

For projects to make money, the girls sold pencils, holly, and sponsored a Saturday night youth center.

The officers elected to have charge of the year's work were: President, Arlene Schildroth; Vice-President, Marlene Hamann; Secretary, Donna Vogt; Treasurer, Darlene Harms; Parlimentarian, Marian Mulder; Reporter, Vera McCreery; Historian, Catherine Robinson; Song Leader, Charlotte Frier; Faculty Advisers, Mrs. Emmett and Miss McCulloch.

HOMECOMING

Darlene Harms
Queen

Barbara Schelling
Attendant

A new system for selecting Homecoming Queen was used this year. The following girls represented their classes: Darlene Harms, Seniors; Barbara Schelling, Juniors; Shirley Barfels, Sophomores; Betty Hickman, Freshmen. Pictures of the above girls were posted downtown. The voting was open to the public based upon the amount of purchases at various stores. This aroused much public interest in the Homecoming activities.

On Thursday night, November 10, a torch light parade, led by the band, officially opened the 1949 Homecoming activities. Following the band were the floats on which the football players and the queen candidates rode. Behind the floats the students joined in a snake dance, and a car caravan followed. Several yells were given downtown, then the parade wound its way to the athletic field for the main event. The gigantic bonfire was lit and the Grundy Spartan was burnt, pep talks were given, yells were led by the six cheerleaders and a community sing was part of the program. The queens were presented before the closing and the band played the "Alma Mater."

The morning of the game everyone attended an Armistice Day program in the Auditorium; in the afternoon all went to the exciting game. The weather turned off to be cold, damp and dreary. A record crowd of 1200 from Grundy and Reinbeck saw this eventful game. The final score was 13 to 7, Reinbeck's victory, and we were once again the winner of the cowbell for another year.

Following the football game, the Homemaking girls served a banquet to the players and coaches from Grundy and Reinbeck. Joe Murphy, co-captain of the team, served as toastmaster at the banquet.

On Friday night, November 11, the Reinbeck Firemen put on a "Corn Show," using all hometown talent for a jam-packed auditorium. Half of the proceeds went to the school to help boost our unified budget.

Saturday night the big Homecoming dance was held in the high school gym and the music was furnished by "The Swingsters." A make-believe ceiling of orange and black streamers set the theme for the decorations. This was a semi-formal occasion with many of the alumni back for the largest Homecoming ever held in Reinbeck. At intermission the Reinbeck faculty presented a floor show full of laughs. The queen, Darlene Harms, representing the senior class, was crowned Miss Homecoming of 1949 by Jerry Ehrig, co-captain. The queen donned the royal robe and crown to preside over the final activities of the three-day affair. Her attendants were Barbara Schelling, Shirley Barfels, and Betty Hickman. Everyone agreed that it was the best Homecoming R.H.S. has ever had.
